

Dear prospective Presenters,

As a long-standing tradition of The University of British Columbia's Psychology undergraduate community, the Psychology Students' Association of UBC and the Department of Psychology are proud to announce the 19th Annual UBC Psychology Undergraduate Research Conference to be held on Friday, March 31st and Saturday, April 1st at UBC's Earth Sciences Building (ESB).

Our mission is to provide a professional environment for undergraduate researchers to showcase their work, gain experience in presenting at conferences, and contribute to the scientific community. We strongly encourage all undergraduate researchers who have spearheaded any form of psychology research during the 2016-2017 academic year to apply to present at this conference, as it not only is an invaluable opportunity for the presenter, but the contribution of presenters is also crucial in making this event a truly enriching experience.

The event will include a special keynote speaker, showcase of undergraduate students' research, professors, UBC community, and refreshments to keep the energy going!

Please review the following pages for details on event dates, important deadlines, and the application process for both oral and poster presenters.

Thank you for your interest and contribution to our research community.

Sincerely,

Bowen Li
President
Psychology Students' Association of UBC

Cindy Choi
